President's Letter

November was a great month for the future of our Potomac Community Village. I was so pleased that our first in-person meeting since the pandemic saw so many people coming out for a fascinating presentation on local history, titled "Will Adams, Fiddler of Ken-Gar," given by Julianne Mangin, a Montgomery County historian. For those of you who are interested, WETA-TV (PBS) has a video presentation about the history of the Ken-Gar neighborhood. You can view it by clicking Ken-Gar.

Lynette Ciervo, our Director of Engagement, continues to enliven PCV with her work and wonderful ideas. We want to thank all the members who participated in last month's focus groups and shared their thoughts and ideas for PCV's future with Lynette. She'll share what she has learned with us shortly. Please see her note to our community on page 4.

I am also pleased to announce the extension of our Home Safety rebate program. A good number of our members have taken advantage of our home safety program and have really appreciated the subsidies we are providing, I urge other members to sign up right away. You can educate yourself on the many ways you can affordably make your home safer and avail yourselves of the financial assistance the village will provide. For details click SAFE HOME, or call the Help Desk at 240-221-1370.

Finally, let me say I am looking forward to seeing you at our upcoming events. They are a great time to meet again with PCV friends whom you may not have seen in-person for a while, due to the pandemic. Especially mark your calendars for Thursday, December 15 at 2 pm for PCV's Holiday Party, being held in-person at the Potomac Community Center (see p. 3 for details), and don't miss our PCV Outing on Sunday, December 11 to attend a free concert (see p. 2). I wish a peaceful and happy holiday season to all our PCV members and volunteers, and to our larger community.

Best,
Owen Ritter, PCV President

Update from Lynette Ciervo...

PCV's New Director of Engagement

I am hoping that your holidays are off to a festive start! On that note, please join us for Potomac Community Village's first holiday party in years on Dec. 15th at the Potomac Community Center! It will be great fun with live swing/jazz music, catered food, door prizes and a chance to reconnect with friends. In fact, if you have a friend who is not a member of PCV, please invite them to join us! Click HOLIDAY to sign up for the Holiday Party. Social connections topped the list of what motivates people to join PCV, according to two member focus groups held in November. As one member aptly stated, "social engagement is a very important part of healthy aging." These groups provided important feedback to the Village as it develops a more robust set of social, educational, and cultural programs. Our holiday party is our first big social gathering in three years! Next, we plan to start a Movie and a Meal event each month on a Tuesday and will kick off themed lunches in January with a Lunar New Year's Day luncheon. There are so many great ideas, and we plan to start developing new programs and activities in the new year. It is always important to hear from you, so please feel free to email me by clicking LYNETTE. My warmest wishes for a healthy and happy holiday season!

New COVID Bivalent Booster Shots - Where to Get Them

New COVID booster shots are now available. Here is Maryland's VACCINE LOCATOR, where you can search for the vaccine you want, i.e., the Pfizer-BioNTech Bivalent Booster or the Moderna Bivalent Booster, and then search for locations that offer them. Members who need help finding a location or making an appointment should contact the Help Desk at 240-221-1370, or email them at 20854HelpDesk@gmail.com. The CDC tells us that current definition for "fully vaccinated" is that you have received the most recent booster for which you are eligible. We will be asking those who attend in-person PCV events to be fully vaccinated, meaning they've gotten the initial vaccine doses and have received a bivalent booster.

What we did in November

November was highlighted by our first in-person evening get together (since the pandemic) for a fascinating program on “Will Adams, Fiddler of Ken-Gar.” We ate and we talked and we walked; we Scrabbled and we read! We had two Coffee and Conversation get-togethers, had lunch at King Street Oyster Bar and enjoyed being together, in person and on Zoom.

Here we are IN-PERSON ! listening to Montgomery County historian Julianne Mangin presenting “Will Adams, Fiddler of Ken-Gar.” Below, our Coffee and Conversation events, held indoors for the winter.

Connect with “Empowering the Ages”

This organization is a non-profit which has as its mission connection between different generations. The organization states that “There’s no limit to the ways we can connect and empower different generations!... we increase school readiness and family efficacy, coach youth workforce development, support teens to create civic engagement projects, and so much more.” Seniors can get involved in programs such as “Crossing Paths,” a discussion program with small groups of teens once a week to share perspectives, “Workforce Development,” to help teens set goals, explore colleges, and write resumes, and “School Readiness,” to build a connection with a pre-K/Head Start student and his/her family by weekly “home visits, among other programs. # GIVING TUESDAY

Although this year's "Giving Tuesday" has passed, this web site offers wonderful ways, in addition to financial support, that people can give back to their communities. As your co-editor, I discovered, while raising children, that the act of giving time and kindness to others is an important lesson all parents should teach their children. So during this holiday season I am grateful as I witness how my now adult children are making meaningful impacts on their own communities. Click GIVE to learn about the movement of radical generosity around the world.
